

HIGHLANDERS ARE CLIMBING

SHUT OUT CLEVELANDS AND TIE THE WHITE SOX.

Philadelphia Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers today, and the White Sox beat the Cleveland Indians today.

The Highlanders, who are playing fast ball just now, won their third straight game from the Cleveland Indians yesterday, 3 to 0, and also tied the Chicago White Sox for fifth place. The Sox lost another game in Boston. The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Detroit Tigers again and are now ten points behind the Tigers, whom they can tie for first place by administering another setback today. The St. Louis Browns outpointed Washington by a run. The results:

Jack Warhop pitched another magnificent game for the Highlanders at American League Park yesterday and shut the Cleveland Indians out as easily as rolling over a log. Warhop used his puzzling well-controlled underhand delivery with telling effect.

The visitors could not connect with his raise ball and sweeping out drop, six of them going out on strikes and only three making life difficult for the Clevelanders. The Browns in his previous game, letting them down with two hits, so that in eighth inning he has limited his opponents' hitting to five bingles. Behind Warhop the Highlanders still minus the services of Chase and Laporte, played without a flaw in the field. They have won nine out of the last thirteen games here and are now coming at their best again. Orth covered second base in splendid fashion, keeping seven chances in perfectly, while Keeler and Engle led the work with the stick.

Falkenberg, the human telegraph pole, pitched a strong game for the Clevelanders and would have been the home team's best thing if it had not been for Ball and Perring. He had good control and a world of speed, but the New Yorkers managed to connect with his just at the right moment. The game, though, insufferably hot, was tempered by a breeze from the Hudson. It looked like rain before the players got busy and a few drops fell now and then while the contest was under way, yet a surprisingly large crowd of fans turned out to encourage the New Yorkers.

In their plucky attempt to get back into the third division.

With two men out in Cleveland's first inning Hinchman hammered a fast two-bagger to left, but the ball was caught by a fly for Orth. Then the Highlanders made two runs, which proved to be enough to win. Demmitt opened with a clever bunt that Lajoie could not reach. Keeler, instead of laying out, dropped the ball over Stovall's head into short right field. Engle drove a hard line fly which Hinchman caught in his tracks and Elberfeld sent a slow roller to Ball, who juggled and then threw the ball first baseman.

On the error Demmitt and Keeler raced across the plate, while Elberfeld kept on to second. Orth retired on strikes and Elberfeld stole third, where he was left, as Keeler was thrown out on a cheap grounder that Falkenberg deflected to Ball.

Warhop was in great form in the second inning, three men going out on infield drives. Falkenberg reached up and robbed Austin of a hit in the second, the latter being stopped at first. Kleinow followed with a smart single to left which was turned into a three-bagger as the ball suddenly bounded over Hinchman's head. But Warhop and Demmitt could not bring the sorrel-topped catcher in.

Brilliant running catches by Demmitt and Hinchman were features of the third inning, which looked like a foregone conclusion. St. Louis, Aug. 9.—One of the hardest problems the Cardinals have encountered this season is to beat the Giants in their own grounds. They may do it before the season is over, but to date in St. Louis the Giants have been too much for the home team. The Giants had to go fast and far to win today, but they did it in a picture-perfect, pithy and ten-inning contest. Larry Doyle, batting in the home of the game, which swung the game to the New Yorks.

Doyle was a participant in three of New York's four runs. He made a hit in the sixth and scored, drove in a run in the eighth with a sacrifice fly, and hammered the winning run across the plate in the tenth with a threebagger.

The hitting was anemic in the first part of the game, but it quickened on both sides toward the middle, and there was a furious fight in the ninth and tenth. Doyle's threebagger started for New York, but didn't finish. "If I don't win this game I'll quit the ball," observed the Bug before the hit. Raymond cannot say that his efforts that he escaped trying to digest a dish of leather, twine and rubber. He was erratic, but got along well enough until the eighth inning, when an error by Merkle, a Section 41 foul ball, and a home run by Doyle finished the game.

St. Louis, recruit Murphy figured somewhat extensively in the role of the village fool. His poor work on hits to his field, a weak and futile throw home to cut off a run and failure three times to do anything at the plate, cost the Cardinals a couple of good catches in deep center by Seymour also loomed up as saving plays for the New Yorks.
